

Food Waste Collection for Composting is coming October 31st

Soon all our residential customers will be able to put all food scraps in their green yard debris rollcart. We will begin weekly collection of the new organics mixture (yard debris and food waste) the week of October 31.

Garbage collection will change to every other week, in order help to keep costs down. Most customers will pay the same rate as they do now. If you need more garbage capacity, simply ask us to provide a larger rollcart.

Cloudburst welcomes this change. Together, we can divert a significant amount of food waste to productive use, and help reduce the release of methane gas from landfills. (Methane is a potent "greenhouse gas", which contributes to climate change.)

The change to alternate week garbage collection may be confusing at first, and may be inconvenient for some customers. We urge you to help us make the new program work. We think people will adapt quickly.

If you currently have "once a month" garbage collection, there will be a change here, too. Your garbage will now be picked up every fourth week. We will provide you with scheduling information.
